WEATHER.

U. S. Department of Agriculture, Weather Bureau,
Toledo, O., March 9, '92.

The local forecast for to-day, clear and warm during the day, rain late at night.

For Thursday, rain or snow, colder with a northwest gale; probability of a moderate cold wave by Friday morning.

For Friday, colder; fair.

A storm of great energy and intensity developed Tuesday in Montana, and has moved eastward, creating severe northwest gales in its path. It is now central in Minnesota with a pressure of 29.2 inches and will extend over the entire lake region. Its advance will create warmer southerly winds in Toledo and vicinity, which will be followed by colder northwest winds Thursday. The approach of this storm prevented a cold snap. The temperature will fall Thursday night to about 20 degrees above, probably lower.

The weather continues fair in the southwest. It is cloudy or threatening. Sixteen below zero is reported from Manitoba. The lowest in the United States is 2 degrees below in northern Minnesota. The highest in Toledo Tuesday was 41; the coldest was 33.

SHOT TO DEATH.

Wholesale Lynching in Memphis, Tenn.,

Of the Men Concerned in the Sunday Riots.

Five of the Negroes Were Taken From Jail

And Their Bodies Filled Full of Lead.

Seventy-five Masked and Determined Men Made a Business Call on the Jailer at an Early Morning Hour.

Memphis, Tenn., March 9.—At 3 o'clock this morning, a mob, which it seems was quietly organized, broke into the Shelby county jail for the purpose of lynching the negroes that were concerned in Saturday night's trouble at the "Curve."

Several negroes were taken from the jail at 3:15 and hurried off by the mob, which was not large, and whose work was done in a quick and quiet manner.

There were 27 in the jail, charged with assault with intent to kill for the ambushing and shooting down of four deputies. There were but 75 in the mob, all being masked men. They broke in the big doors and secured Calvin McDowell, Tom Moss, and Will Stuart, leaders of the negro gang.

Another Report.

Memphis, Tenn., March 9.—At 3 o'clock this morning a mob of about 75 armed citizens surrounded the county jail and compelled Jailor O'Donnell to give up the keys to the cells where the negro-rioters were confined.

After securing the keys the mob made a rush for the cells, and placing ropes around the necks of Tom Moss, Will Stuart and Cal McDowell, they hurried them from the jail and across the railroad track to a lonely place in the outskirts.

The negroes were then placed together, and in less than three seconds over 25 rifle shots rang out and the negroes fell, dying almost instantly.

The mob then quickly dispersed, and it was not until daylight this morning that the extent of the lynching was realized.

Early risers were horrified to find the bodies of three negroes lying on the ground riddled by bullets. Two other negro rioters are missing, and the belief is that their bodies will be found late in the morning.

Five Were Shot.

Later.—It is now reported that five of the negroes have been hanged in the yards of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad, which lie immediately back of the jail.

The mob knocked on the big iron gate in the high stone wall surrounding the jail at 3 o'clock and called loudly for Keeper O'Donnell.

"What do you want?" came O'Donnell's voice from the jail door.

"We have a prisoner here; open the gate."

"All right," he said, and came down to the walk and opened the gate.

In an instant he found himself pushed most unceremoniously aside, and while two of the mob held him tightly against the wall their followers filed into the jail.

The two members of the mob then forced O'Donnell to give up the keys to the cells in which were the negroes and in a moment had them in their power. They were soon hurried out of the jail.

The riot and collision between blacks and whites, which has now ended in a general lynching bee, occurred Sunday night last in the suburbs of Memphis at a place known as "The Curve." The neighborhood is thickly populated by negroes, and they committed several assaults of an aggravated nature upon white citizens and warrants were issued for the arrest of Armon Harris and Tom Stewart, who were supposed to be ringleaders of the gang.

Sunday night the attempt to serve the warrant was made by nine deputy sheriffs, who surrounded the "People's grocery" and entered at the front and rear. McDowell, Joshua Shields, Tom Moss, a negro letter carrier and about half a dozen other negroes were in the place.

The officers asked for Stewart and were told that he was in the back room. As they started back the negroes opened fire on them with shotguns. Deputy Bob Harrold was dangerously wounded in the face and shoulders. Deputy Charles Cole was shot through the shoulder and in the face and Deputy Yerger was shot in the head.

The deputies promptly returned the fire and the negroes fled. Entering the back room the officers found a dozen armed negroes awaiting them. The officers charged on the crowd and dispersed it, arresting all the ringleaders except Shields, who escaped. The officers had considerable difficulty getting their prisoners to the jail, a crowd of whites having gathered and lynching being attempted.

Later Details.

Memphis, Tenn., March 8.—This morning at 3 o'clock three of the ringleaders of Saturday night's riots were taken from the jail in the heart of the city, escorted beyond the city limits and shot to death. They are Calvin McDowell, Tom Moss, a letter carrier, and Will Stewart.

At 3 o'clock the door bell of the county jail rang, and Deputy Turnkey O'Donnell asked what was wanted.

"We have Hugh Williams, one of the rioters, and want to put him in jail."

"All right," said O'Donnell, and he went to the outer gate and opened it. There stood a man with a blackened face along with the others. "Here is your man," said one, and the white man with the black face stepped close to O'Donnell and grabbed him. O'Donnell reached for his gun. "If you shoot," said one, "we will kill you."

"Shoot and be d—d," said O'Donnell, struggling to get his gun, but he was quickly disarmed and tied. The seventy-five men began to crowd into the jail yard.

"Give us the keys," said one.

"Go to h—l," said O'Donnell, "I don't know where they are."

The keys were found on a table and the search at once was begun. McDowell, Moss and Stewart were brought out. Further search was made for a negro named Shanks, but Shanks could not be found.

"These will be enough for to-night," said one; "let's go."

They left the jail and O'Donnell yelled for help. Jailor Williams, who sleeps in the kitchen, came down and asked what was the matter. He was told and attempted to use the telephone, but the wires were cut.

The mob took their victims to the Newport News yards and shot them to death. McDowell must have struggled terribly. He is shot through the breast, all of his lower face is torn away, his left eyeball hangs down on his face, and the top of his skull is torn open. His hand is also shot off.

Moss was ended by receiving a bullet behind the ear.

Stewart is shot through the neck and in the right ear.

The bodies have been brought to the city and an inquest has been held.

Sensational Rumors.

Five thousand negroes are gathered around the place. A telephone message has just been sent in to the station house that two white men have been killed at "The Curve" by the infuriated negroes. Five deputy sheriffs and a dozen policemen have left to disperse the mob. A bloody battle is about to be fought. The squad is under the command of Sheriff McLendon, a cool and conservative man.

FLANNEL-MOUTHED IRISHMEN.

London, March 9.—Secretary Foster has departed for the states, but not until after he had denied that he referred to Irishmen as clam-mouthed Irishmen. The secretary says the term he used was flannel-mouthed Irishmen.

LEASING STATE OIL TERRITORY.

Lima, O., March 9.—Senator McConica, with his legislative committee, arrived here from St. Marys, where they have been looking into the leasing of land belonging to the state for oil purposes. While here they have been in conference with officials of the Standard Oil company, the Manhattan Oil company, and several individual producers who are interested in the field. The Standard folks are anxious to lease the St. Mary's reservoir, or rather the land under the waters, as it is considered good oil producing territory. Many good wells have been drilled on all sides of the water, which covers 17,500 acres of land.

FLOURING MILL BURNED.

Caldwell, O., March 9.—At Mt. Ephraim, 11 miles east of this place, the large flouring mill of Garrett & McVicker, together with its contents, was entirely consumed by fire. The loss is placed at $6,000; insured for $4,000. The origin of the fire is unknown.

BOLD AS HORSE THIEVES

Four Women Go Into a Smuggling Scheme

And Get Caught in New York City.

Three Thousand Dollars' Worth of Finery They Were Spiriting Into the Country Confiscated.

New York, March 9.—When the French steamer La Bourgogne reached her dock Col. W. W. Storey, chief deputy surveyor, was on hand in person to supervise the examination of the baggage of the arriving cabin passengers. He seemed to be particularly solicitous for the welfare of four ladies who appeared to be in one party.

Two of them were handsome women, stylishly dressed, and the other two were less showy and were very plainly attired. They had made oath that they had nothing dutiable and that their seven trunks contained only their personal wearing apparel in actual use.

Col. Storey had recognized the women as dressmakers, although they all seemed anxious to conceal the fact of their business. Two of them were Mrs. L. Morgan Mooney and Miss A. Fox, of 36 West Thirty-fourth street, this city, where they do business as fashionable dressmakers under the name of the Fox Sisters. The other two were Miss J. O. Allebone and Miss Von der Heiser, well known dressmakers at No. 1551 Michigan avenue, Chicago.

When Col. Storey asked Miss Allebone what her name was and where she was bound, she innocently assumed a French accent and exclaimed "Mon Dieu!" she did not know where she was going.

"Oh, yes, you do!" said the customs officer quietly. "Your name is Allebone, and you are going to No. 1551 Michigan avenue, Chicago."

The woman was dumfounded, and made no further attempt to conceal her identity. Col. Storey had seen her in Chicago, and recognized her at once. The seven trunks belonging to the four dressmakers were confiscated and taken to the custom house. On examination they were found to contain about $3,000 worth of smuggled finery, consisting, among other things, of fine Paris made Easter bonnets, Easter wraps of the costliest and most beautiful designs, 45 pairs of kid gloves, silk underwear and stockings, a costly astrakh fur cloak, several cloth coats, dainty opera cloaks, and street and house robes.

There were scores of yards of costly new lace basted around old skirts, new dresses had old and soiled ruchings tacked on the neck and sleeves, and one of the costumes had dirty lace basted around the bottom of the skirt to make it appear that the dress had been worn. The gloves were deftly concealed in soiled stockings and dirty linen, in the pockets of dresses, in the crowns of hats, and in other unlikely hiding places.

The dressmakers protested, at first tearfully and then angrily, at the seizure of their goods, but it was of no avail. The customs officers were inexorable. The two Chicago women had a lawyer plead with Collector Hendricks, but the latter declined to interfere.

INSANE WITH JEALOUSY.

Murderous Deed of a Street Car Driver.

He Fires a Bullet Into the Head of His Sleeping Wife and Then Kills Himself.

Milwaukee, Wis., March 9.—Shortly after 9 o'clock this morning, Charles Meising, a Cream City street car driver, shot and probably fatally wounded his wife and then killed himself, at their home, 587 1-2 Tenth street.

Meising and his wife have not been living together for some time. He entered the house from the rear, and stealthily going to the room in which his wife and son lay sleeping, put a 32-calibre revolver to the woman's head and fired, and then turned the weapon upon himself, the bullet entering his right temple, killing him instantly. Jealousy is the cause.

At a late hour this morning Mrs. Meising had regained consciousness and is resting easier.

THOMPSON IS BACK.

Detroit Politician Returns From New York.

He is Firmly Convinced That Hill Will be Nominated and Elected.

Detroit, March 9.—Wm. G. Thompson has returned from a conference with David B. Hill in Washington. He says:

"Cleveland has no more chance of the nomination than has Don M. Dickinson, and I am giving the strongest illustration I can conjure up. Should Hill die Cleveland could not get one of New York's electoral votes.

Without them his defeat would be certain. Hill can command them all, and thus, to my mind, insure his election. Cleveland is a dead cock in the pit, and Hill s bound to get the nomination."

LOCKWOOD WILL CASE

Has Been Called for Hearing in Erie County.

Evidence of a Long Legal Contest.

The Question of the Deceased Millionaire Vessel Owner's Sanity to be Settled in Court.

Sandusky, O., March 9.—The most important contested will case ever known in this section of the state is now pending in the common pleas court in this city.

The suit is one brought by Mrs. A. F. Dixon, Ralph M. Lockwood, James C. Lockwood, Mrs. George R. Curtiss, George Lockwood, Stephen Lockwood, Louise Lockwood, Mary Lockwood, Frank C. Smith, Louisa C. Peet and Maltby Smith, heirs of the late millionaire banker and vessel owner, J. C. Lockwood, who died at his home in Milan, this county, on November 26, 1890, in his 76th year.

Deceased was the wealthiest man in this county, and was well known in Cleveland, with some of the capitalists of which city he was interested in vessels and other property. The defendants in the case are the wife of deceased, whom he married in 1880, and an only son, J. C. Lockwood, jr., now about 8 years of age.

To this widow Mr. Lockwood bequeathed about half a million dollars, and to his son $100,000, the wife's share of the estate to go to the son at her death. The remainder of the estate, which in its entirety is estimated to be worth about $1,000,000, was divided among 11 nieces and nephews of deceased, with the exception of some $15,000 given to a church and a cemetery association at Milan.

It is alleged that after making his will Mr. Lockwood had two or three severe strokes of apoplexy, which it is claimed so affected his mind as to unfit him for the transaction of business.

That his mind was affected by something is a matter of judicial record here, for on May 6, 1889, a couple of years after his will was made, he was adjudged a lunatic by the probate court of this county, and his wife was appointed as his guradian, and continued to act in that capacity until August 7, 1889, when it was claimed that he had recovered his mental equilibrium and the guardianship was removed.

Ten days later Mr. Lockwood made a codicil to his will, in which he substantially took from the nieces and nephews the property bequeathed to them, and gave the greater part of it to his son, the boy above referred to. The nieces and nephews allege that he was of unsound mind when he executed the codicil, and that he was influenced to that act by his wife.

The trial will last at least two weeks. The first four or five days will be consumed with reading of depositions, and the oral testimony of nearly a hundred witnesses will then be taken.

Some of the most noted experts on insanity in this country have been subpoenaed to testify as to Mr. Lockwood's probable mental condition, so far as they will be able to judge from the evidence.

The case will be stubbornly contested, both sides being well provided with the "sinews of war," and the claims of each being especially well fortified with strong evidence. The medical features of the case will be quite as interesting as the legal. Half of the physicians in town are in the case as witnesses, to say nothing of the medical and insanity experts from abroad.

Dr. Tobey, ex-superintedent of the insane asylum at Toledo, subpoenaed as an expert on insanity, arrived here to-day, and other experts are expected to-morrow.

NINE MONTHS IN JAIL.

Sentence Passed on Mrs. Ethel Osborne,

A Light in the Prince of Wales Set.

She Stands Convicted of Perjury After a Remarkable Career Before the Courts of London.

London, March 9.—Mrs. Florence Ethel Osborne was sentenced this morning in the central criminal court to nine months' imprisonment at hard labor for perjury and larceny in connection with the theft of jewels from her cousin, Mrs. Hargreaves.

The central is the most noted of London criminal courts, is situated in the Old Bailey and adjoins the historic prison of Newgate, and in this building some of the most notorious of British criminals have been tried and frequently sentenced. There are various courts in the building, but all of them are stuffy and badly ventilated. In anticipation of the trial opening this morning the court was besieged before the doors were opened. Tickets were issued by the sheriffs, but even this precaution did not prevent the building being packed to excess.

Among those present were a number of ladies—indeed, it is a feature of all notorious Old Bailey trials that women form a large proportion of the audiences.

Many of these, ignoring the general impression that the trial would be of brief duration, came provided with luncheon baskets in order to spend a happy day after Londoners' own peculiar fashion.

Outside the Old Bailey, although it was snowing thickly, there were big crowds, in hopes of seeing the parties connected with the case, and especially to see Mrs. Osborne arrive. The curious minded, however, had little to recompense them for their trouble. The lady was driven from Holloway in an ordinary four-wheeled cab, her husband being with her and a female attendant, whilst a warder sat upon the box with the driver.

The cab was driven direct into the yard of the Central criminal court, the folding gates being closed instantly. Mrs. Osborne was thus spared the indignity of going to the court, as is usual with prisoners in such circumstances, in the funereal prison van known to the seamy side of London as the "Black Maria." Once inside the yard she alighted and was taken into the prisoner's waiting-room, her husband, by special permission, being still with her. When her case was called she was conducted up the steps into the dock, a large structure that stands about six feet above the general floor of the room. She faltered for a moment as she entered, but immediately took a seat. The front of the box is so high that the sightseers in court could only catch a glimpse of her occasionally by craning their necks, except those who were in the gallery over the dock.

Immediately facing the dock is the judge's bench, on the left of the prisoner are the empanelled jury. Between the dock and the bench is the well of the court, in which a few solicitors and officials hold possession. On the right of the prisoner are the seats, gradually rising, where the spectators sit or stand if they are not sufficiently fortunate to obtain a seat.

The case originated in a suit last December by Mrs. Osborne, lately Miss Ethel Elliott, against Major and Mrs. Hargreaves, of Torquay, for slanders imputing to her that she, while on a visit there, had stolen Mrs. Hargreaves' jewels. The case was tried before Mr. Justice Denman. Mrs. Osborne was, at the time of the theft, Miss Florence Ethel Ellito and on the best of terms with the Hargreaves family, the latter being in the Prince of Wales set.

Miss Elliott was a cousin of Mrs. Hargreaves, and they were on the most intimate terms. Mrs. Hargreaves had very valuable jewels, which she kept in a secret cabinet, and it is claimed that the secret of this cabinet was known only to her husband, to herself, to a friend named Englehart, a rich bachelor friend, and to Miss Elliot.

Miss Elliot had a rich grandfather, but was herself in moderate circumstances, and at the trial before Judge Denman one of the witnesses testified that Miss Elliot had remarked that she would do anything for "Oof."

This remark mystified the judge, who asked for an explanation, which was given to the effect that "Oof" was a slang term for money.

Mrs. Osborne lost her suit and then admitted stealing the jewels.

As she heard the sentence pronounced the prisoner sobbed aloud. She seemed astonished and overcome by the words of the judge, and a moment later she fainted and fell from her chair. She was carried to the warders' cells. Mrs. Hargreaves seemed almost as much overcome as her unfortunate friend. Major Hargreaves and Capt. Osborne both turned pale with emotion. The crowd quickly dispersed with very little noise. Everybody seemed cast down by the sad scenes that had been witnessed.

WINTER WHEAT REPORTS.

Ohio Seems to Have Got the Worst of it.

Other States Make Good Reports and Give Promise of an Abundant Yield.

Chicago, March 9.—The Farmers' Review has the following wheat crop summary:

In Illinois, one-half of the correspondents report, the crop is in good condition. In a part of the state the wheat has started to grow, but it is rather thin and small on account of dry weather in the fall, but the weather is now favorable and the condition improving. About 35 per cent. report the condition as fair and 15 per cent. poor.

In Indiana 55 per cent. of the correspondent's report good, 40 per cent. fair, and the others poor. In some of the counties reporting only fair the correspondent states that if there be no sudden freeze the crop will improve to "good." There has been little or no heaving by the frost, and the plant is now growing well. In other localities some of the wheat has been frozen out, but the early sown is looking very good.

The condition in Ohio is not so good. Only 20 per cent. of the correspondents report good; 56 report fair, and 24 per cent. poor. A number of localities report damage by freezing and thawing, in some cases serious.

Two-thirds of the correspondents in Michigan report the condition as good; 30 per cent. fair, and the rest poor. In some places the plant has been heaved out of the ground, and the fly did some damage in the fall, and nits are now in the plant.

In Kentucky 52 per cent. of the correspondents give the condition as good; 36 per cent. as fair, and 12 per cent. as poor. Some damage by freezing is reported.

In Missouri the outlook for the crop is not nearly so good as it was at this time last year. One-third of the correspondents report good, one-fifth fair, and the rest poor. However, in many sections the farmers believe that if the weather holds good there will be a "great come out" in the wheat. In some counties the crop is reported as "about done for."

In Kansas 40 per cent. of the correspondents report the condition as good, 20 per cent. as fair, and the remainder as poor. At some points the crop is in a critical condition, and late sown has not yet come.

In Iowa 60 per cent. of the correspondents report good, 30 per cent. report fair, and the others poor. A great many correspondents in this state report that no winter wheat is raised in their counties. In some cases the crop looks well, but the acreage is not more than half of that of last year.

In Wisconsin one-half of the correspondents report the condition as good; 42 per cent. report fair, and the rest poor. The condition in some places is critical, owing to freezing and thawing, with a poor outlook.

BLACK WOMEN AT WAR.

They Will Die Fighting for the Pastor.

The Central Baptist Church of Memphis in the Hands of a Female Mob.

Memphis, Tenn., March 9.—The Central Baptist church, the largest and finest church building belonging to colored people in the south, is in the hands of a mob of over two hundred women, under command of the pastor, Rev. Taylor Nightengale.

They vow they will die in their tracks rather than surrender the building to a certain faction of the congregation who have been trying for a long time to oust Nightengale.

The colored Amazons are entrenched in the church parsonage and bid defiance to the combined forces of the faction and the law.

BISHOP HORTSMANN.

His Reception in Cleveland a Most Brilliant One.

Cleveland, O., March 9.—Catholics from all over northern Ohio flocked to Cleveland yesterday to greet Bishop Hortsmann on his arrival from Philadelphia. The steady rain did not seem to dampen the enthusiasm.

The bishop arrived last night and this morning the Roman Catholic diocese was formally turned over to him by Mgr. Boff, who has been in charge of it since the death of Bishop Gilmour.

Bishop Hortsmann, who was accompanied by his mother, his niece, Miss Mary Hortsmann, his nephew, Mr. John Thomas, and 26 Philadelphia priests, was met at Alliance by a reception committee from Cleveland filling five railroad coaches.

Columbus, March 9.—(Special)—Representative Graft, of Cincinnati, yesterday afternoon introduced a bill of considerable importance to all old soldiers. It provides that in every public department and upon all public works of the state, and of the cities and villages thereof, all honorably discharged union soldiers, sailors and marines of the late rebellion shall be preferred.

After Morganthaler.

Representative Clark, of Cuyahoga, some time ago introduced a bill to repeal the law enacted for Mr. Morganthaler, of Cincinnati, by which he was to receive 20 per cent. for all delinquent property he should place on the tax duplicate.

It was in the hands of the house judiciary committee for some time and was at last reported to the house with a recommendation that it be indefinitely postponed, but its author made a fight for its life and yesterday it was placed on the table by a vote of 32 yeas to 30 nays.

This did not meet with the approval of the author, so late yesterday afternoon he secured a reconsideration of the vote and had the bill placed on the calendar.

Flick Knows All About It.

Mr. Flickinger of Lucas yesterday afternoon introduced a resolution requiring the Valley Railway company to pay the state an annual rental of $600 from 1886 to the present time and compel it to take a 15 year lease on the property on similar terms or vacate. It was ordered printed. This resolution was brought forth through an argument made by the Valley railroad in 1866 when it occupied, as it does now, a portion of the Ohio canal in Akron for a belt railroad.

Griffin's Bill.

The house yesterday afternoon passed Mr. Griffin's bill to facilitate the work of the state inspector of workshops and factories. It gives that officer authority to appoint eight additional district inspectors, whose terms of office and compensation shall be the same as is now provided for the three district inspectors authorized by the present law.

Animals at Large.

The house passed a bill by Mr. Reeve which provides that a person who kills a horse or other animal in trying to prevent the animal from trespassing shall not be liable to prosecution if he pays the damages.

Bills Passed the Senate.

Mr. Rawlings—Amending section 6951 providing for penalties for cruelty to animals, by permitting the dehorning of cattle.

Mr. McMaken—To supplement section 247 by empowering city councils and county commissioners to require gates or flagmen at dangerous crossings.

Mr. Van Cleaf—To amend section 3039 by authorizing the enlisting of contributing members to the companies of the Ohio National guard in cities of the fourth grade and second class.

Mr. Workman—To provide for a more efficient organization of the common school in townships districts, by authorizing the election of a board of township districts, with one member from each district, to have control and management of the schools of the township.

Mr. Tischbein—Providing that when municipal corporations appropriate private property for public purposes it shall not be necessary for the city auditor to certify that there is money in the city treasury to pay for the same.

Mr. Richards—Authorizing city councils in cities of over 30,000 population and in incorporated villages to appoint a board of library trustees of six members and to levy a tax of one mill for library purposes.

Railroad Consolidation.

The house this morning indulged in a long but not very interesting debate on the subject of railroad stocks and lands, the pending question being Senator McConica's bill to amend section 3309a.

In substance the bill seeks to so amend the existing laws as to allow railroad companies, upon consolidating with other companies, to issue bonds in excess of the amount of the capital stock.

The bill failed to pass, the vote being 41 to 37.

Notes.

The Dougherty investigating committee continues its work but is making slow progress.

The democratic members of the house will, this evening, call upon Senator Thurman and pay their respects.

Republican representatives from the counties in the Athens insane asylum district called upon Gov. McKinley this morning and recommended Messrs. Horton, of Meigs; McDonald, of Perry, and Morrance, of Highland, as republicans fitted for trustees.

The republicans of the house intended to hold a caucus to-night on the congressional gerrymander, but a postponement was made. Mr. Doughterty says little change will be made in the Sherman bill, passed by the senate.

The senatorial committee that went to St. Marys to investigate the gas and oil losses on state lands returned to-day. The members say they visited the oil field and found a number of wells on state land near the reservoir. Considerable information that was valuable was received.

The house has adopted a joint resolution by Mr. Gaumer which authorizes the committee on public printing to ascertain and report to the house why the railroad maps of 1891 as ordered by the Sixty-ninth general assembly. The members have only received 35 or 40 copies each, whereas the law says they shall have 60.

Senator Abbott, of Athens, has introduced a bill providing for the appointment of a chief inspector of mines by the governor, the same to be confirmed by the senate. After the chief is appointed he is authorized to appoint seven district inspectors of mines who are to be approved by the chief executive.

Mr. Daugherty introduced a bill which seeks to render unnecessary the large amount of local legislation which annually wastes the time of the members of the general assembly. It provides that where it is desired by the township or municipal corporation to build, lease or purchase gas works, electric light plants or waterworks to extend the same, the trustees of the township or the council of the municipality may levy the necessary tax without appealing to the legislature.

SCUDDER MUST STAND TRIAL

The Doctor Turned Over to the Criminal Court.

Judge Scales Thinks He Should Answer for the Killing of His Mother-in-Law, Mrs. Dunton.

Chicago, March 9.—Dr. Henry Martyn Scudder was to-day, by order of Judge Scales, released from the Detention hospital and turned over to the police to stand trial for the murder of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Dunton.

This will end Scudder's examination in the court for insanity, and his mental condition will figure only in the defense before the criminal court.

WANT FAIR PLAY.

New York Democrats Are Now in Position

To See That the People Are Not Disfranchised.

What the New Census Has Demonstrated.

The Empire State Reliably Democratic.

In Years Gone by About Three Out of Every Five People Have Had No Representation in the State Legislature.

New York, March 9.—(Special)—New York's new census is completed, showing 1,800,891 population. It shows that the federal census was either wilfully or ignorantly mismanaged, and that New York has been deprived of her rightful representation in congress thereby.

The state census does another thing that will be learned with satisfaction by democrats throughout the country. It makes the legislature of New York safe for all time to come. The present apportionment is a parody. For instance, the city of New York is entitled at the present time to 24 assemblymen. These assemblymen are elected by districts, the population of which present a grotesque contrast.

Thus, the Twenty-third assembly district, with 182,523 inhabitants, contains nearly five times as many people as the first district with 39,969 people.

In other words, about 3.5 out of every five of the population of the Twenty-third district have been practically disfranchised for years on account of the republican refusal to comply with the mandate of the constitution and reapportion the state.

Under the census of 1875—the last taken—this city was granted one representative in the assembly for every 42,500 inhabitants, the population being 1,041,886. It is understood that the Tammany leaders would like to have the legislature, which it is generally understood will meet in extra session and pass a reapportionment bill, give the city one representative in the lower house for each 50,000 inhabitants. This would mean an increase in the number of assemblymen from this city to 36 as against 24 under the present apportionment of 1875.

Under such an apportionment Kings county and Brooklyn would have about eighteen assemblymen and the other large cities, including Queens county, 13, estimated.

The centers of population, in other words, would elect 67 of the 128 assemblymen permitted by the constitution. Each county, with one exception, is entitled under the constitution to at least one representative, and there are 57 counties exclusive of New York, Kings and Queens.

Some of them are reliably democratic, while the delegations from New York and Brooklyn would be almost solidly democratic and largely democratic from interior cities like Albany, Rochester and Buffalo. It will be seen, therefore, that by no hook or crook will the republicans be able to carry the legislature in the future.

It is a source of satisfaction to the democrats, too, to know that they can do all the things they have mapped out to do without invoking the aid of a gerrymander. Enough democratic districts can be made from contiguous territory to meet the emergency.

ROMANCE ON SHIP BOARD.

Wrongs of a Woman Righted Just in Time.

Deceived by a Mock Marriage, Immigrant Officers Interfere and Save a Scotch Girl Much Trouble.

New York, March 9.—In the steerage of the Umbria during that vessel's last passage from Liverpool to this port were two pretty Scotch immigrant girls.

In the Cunarder's cabin during the same trip was a voyager who was returning from a visit to his native Scotland. He is a resident of this city and has been abroad nine months on a pleasure trip.

During that period he became acquainted with the two Scotch girls, who were anxious to come to America to join relatives in Stamford, Conn. They eagerly accepted the offer of the homeward bound tourist to see them safely across the ocean, and the trio embarked at Liverpool.

When the Cunarder reached her pier, the two girls, probably at the instigation of their guide, mingled with the cabin passengers and walked unmolested over the gang-plank with the passengers of that class.

The fact that the girls had left the ship was soon discovered and reported to the immigration authorities. A sharp lookout was kept for them, and when a young woman who answered the description of one of the missing immigrants presented herself at Ellis island Sunday morning with inquiries for her baggage she was escorted before Superintendent Weber.

To that official she explained that she had just been married to the kind friend who accompanied her over. Inquiry into the manner in which the ceremony had been performed elicited the fact that the man had shown a paper to the girl bearing some sort of a seal and told her her signature was all that was necessary to make it a marriage contract. When Col. Weber told her she had been deceived the girl fainted.

The girl was detained and a search for the man instituted. Greatly to the surprise of the officials he betrayed himself by unguarded inquiries at the landing bureau for his missing friend. It was his turn to be surprised when he was taken into custody and brought before Col. Weber.

When the man denied any intention to deceive and said it was his wish to marry the girl, Col. Weber took him at his word and sent him before Pastor Berkemier, one of the immigrant missionaries. To guard against any change of mind, an officer accompanied the pair and witnessed the marriage ceremony. The identity of the high contracting parties was concealed behind the fictitious names of James Hanover and Emma Stoyle by the immigration people who relate the story.

An examination of the records in the house of Pastor Berkemier showed that Mary Ellen Boyle was married to George Hamilton.

CHURCH BURNED.

One Hundred and Fifty Thousand Dollar Blaze in Boston.

Boston, March 9.—The Mission church in Tremont street, just beyond the Roxbury crossing, was totally destroyed by fire at 4:30 this morning. Loss $150,000. The church was occupied by the Redemptionist fathers. The main building was erected 35 years ago. The fire destroyed the three vestrys in the rear of the pulpit and with them all the valuable gold and silver plate. The cause of the fire has not yet been ascertained.

INTO THE COMBINE.

Philadelphia, March 9.—The Ledger says this morning that it can announce officially that Vice President Thomas and Second Vice President Vaillant of the New York, Lake Erie & Western railroad met President McLeod and other officials of the Reading railroad in this city yesterday and agreed upon an alliance, offensive and defensive upon which the two properties should be worked in the future.

THE BERING SEA QUESTION

Discussed by the Cabinet at Washington.

The Industry Must be Protected or It Will be Ruined Entirely in a Few Months.

Washington, March 9.—The cabinet meeting Tuesday was of a most important character, notwithstanding the absence of Secretaries Blaine, Foster and Noble.

The entire session of two hours was devoted to the consideration of the Bering sea question in general, and to Lord Salisbury's last communication in opposition to a renewal of the modus vivendi of last year in particular.

The president and every member of the cabinet participated in the discussion, and the opinion was unanimous that the position assumed by the British government was untenable and not justified by the condition of the sealing industry.

The argument was made that the opening of Bering sea for the present season to the indiscriminate slaughter of seals by poachers would undoubtedly result in serious injury to, if not the total destruction of the industry, and thus defeat the very object sought in the negotiations between the two countries.

It was therefore decided to insist on a modus vivendi somewhat similar to that of last year, having for its object the protection of the seal fisheries by the joint action of Great Britain and the United States, pending the settlement of the question at issue by arbitration. Another question considered was in regard to the transmission to the senate of copies of the correspondence on this question that has taken place since January 6, 1891, the date of the last published volume, in order to aid that body in its consideration of the treaty of arbitration transmitted to it by the president to-day. While the general opinion was favorable to this course, it was concluded to leave the question open for a few days.

This correspondence would naturally include the last communication received from Lord Salisbury respecting the question of a modus vivendi for the coming season and its transmission to the senate may be delayed in order that it may include also the response to Lord Salisbury which is to be made in accordance with the action of the cabinet today.

Acting Secretary Wharton has delivered to the British minister the reply of this government to Lord Salisbury's note declining to renew the modus vivendi. This reply reiterates the position of this government and insists upon a renewal of the modus vivendi of 1891 for the coming season. It is understood that Sir Julian Pauncefote cabled the entire text of the note to Lord Salisbury.

ATLANTIC FISHERIES.

Ottawa, Ont., March 9.—The government yesterday introduced in the house of commons a bill providing for the renewal of the modus vivendi granting licenses to American vessels to engage in the inshore Atlantic fisheries.

A feature of the bill is that it is proposed to empower the government to renew these licenses from year to year without applying to parliament for authority.

CHILEAN CABINET.

New York, March 9.—The Herald's Valparaiso dispatch says it is expected that arrangements will be made to-day for forming a new cabinet.

It is probable that Eduardo Matta will be minister of foreign affairs, and Augustin Edwards minister of finance, Valdes Vergara having declined to again accept the latter portfolio.

RIOTING IN URUGUAY.

New York, March 9.—A Montevideo, Uruguay, dispatch to the Herald says that serious riots took place during the recent carnival and that several arrests of the ringleaders have been made.

The dispatch also states that the United States warships Chicago, Bennington and Atlanta have sailed for La Plata.

HIGHWAYMEN IN GANGS.

They Attack and Capture a Railroad Station.

Baltimore & Ohio Employes Held Up, Bound and Gagged While the Safe is Blown Open.

Pittsburg, March 9.—At Finleyville, 22 miles south of this city on the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, a gang of four highwaymen assaulted J. J. McMillen, a shifting conductor.

After they had bound and gagged him, he was carried some distance away and tied to a post. The desperadoes then relieved him of his watch and money, and after threatening to kill him if he tried to make a noise, they left him.

They then went to the telegraph tower and at the point of revolvers forced Albert McNeil, the operator, to surrender. He was taken down stairs and bound and gagged after which he was also relieved of his valuables.

The robbers next turned their attention to the safe in the office. It was locked, but they placed a charge of powder in the key-hole and blew it open. The explosion wrecked the office, but the report attracted the attention of trainmen in the vicinity, and the desperadoes were frightened off before they could secure the contents of the safe, which were scattered over the room.

McNiel and McMillen were released from their uncomfortable positions and were not much the worse for the experience.

The entire detective force of the Baltimore & Ohio road were at once sent in pursuit of the perpetrators of the outrage. It is thought they were members of the gang that has terrorized the residents of the Beaver Valley for several months past.

REMEMBERED THE OATH.

Burglar Ciro Afraid He Will be Killed

By the Men He Has Threatened to Betray.

He Prefers to Die in Prison Rather Than to Meet the Band of Italian Robbers of Which He Was a Member.

New York, March 9.—Locked in a cell in the Mulberry street police station is Jose Ciro, an Italian, apparently very angry. He ran his fingers through his bushy hair and stamped his feet in rage. He was also in a talkative mood, and so Detective Foye, who had arrested him for burglary, sent for an interpreter.

"He admits he's a burglar," said the interpreter, "but he says if he goes to jail he will make others go, too. Seven of them, he says, are banded together to break into dwelling houses and steal all they can. His share of the work was to dispose of the stolen property.

"He complains that the booty was not equally divided and that he did not receive his share. He also says that he will take you to a basement in East Eleventh street, where the gang has its headquarters. He wants you to take a wagon along to take away the stolen property. You will find much of it there."

The door of the cell was unlocked and Detective Foye, with a squad of police, was soon ready to accompany Ciro to the place. Then the Italian said something to the interpreter.

"He wants to know," said the interpreter, "whether any one has left him anything to eat or been here to inquire for him."

"Tell him no," replied Foye.

Ciro plucked up courage and started for the door, accompanied by the detective. The others followed. They reached the sidewalk, when the Italian suddenly fell to the sidewalk and prayed on his knees that his life might be spared.

"He speaks of the oath he took when he joined the gang," explained the interpreter. "The one who turned traitor," he says, "was to be shot like a dog. He says they will surely kill him, and he would much prefer to die in prison. He says he won't take another step."

Nothing could induce the man to change his mind. He seemed thoroughly frightened and trembled violently. When he had calmed down it was explained to him that he would be protected by the police and that no one would molest him. He replied that the police could not be with him constantly, and he should surely be killed.

Detective Foye told the Italian that he would be compelled to point out the place. He seized hold of his arm, and the Italian gave a cry of terror and fainted. He was restored to consciousness. Subsequently the detective made another attempt to induce him to point out the place, but Ciro fainted the second time.

The detective started out to find the place himself, but was unsuccessful. Eleventh street, near Avenue B, is crowded with Italians. Alexander Brocco is serving five years in state prison for throwing vitriol in the face of his father-in-law near that corner.

"Congressman John L." a New Book Just Out.

The Prize Fighter a Hero in a Novel.

Bellamy's "Looking Backward" Not in it with the Work of a Louisville Reporter—Sporting Notes.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 9.—John L. Sullivan has been made the hero of an optimistic novel which outdoes Bellamy's "Looking Backward" or looking in any other direction. The book is by a Louisville newspaper man and pictures Sullivan as having stopped drinking.

With this improbability as a basis the author proceeds to elect him to congress, where he gets bills passed appropriating $100,000,000 for the relief of the farmers, making instruction in physical culture a branch of the war department, etc. He is also nominated for president, but is shot while making a fight against syndicates and trusts on the floor of the house. A revolution occurs, and an empire is about to be established, when John L., who has been nursed back to life, reappears, rescues liberty, and saves the republic. Then he retires after making Chauncey Depew president.

Sullivan, last night, when shown the first copy of the book, which is entitled "Congressman John L.," was evidently much pleased with the honor. It seemed to tickle his fancy that he should be president, with Ignatius Donnelly, Bellamy, "Sockless" Simpson, and Henry George on his staff, but remarked that they all had "wheels in their heads," and he would not have them for advisers.

Chauncey Depew, he thought, was all right. If he was president he would have kept the foreigners out of the country, especially the English. He thought it would be better to give the farmers $100,000,000 than to squander it in pensions as is being done. He seemed to think his being elected to congress was not very ridiculous and complacently remarked that it came very near being done once "on the dead level."

RAILROAD PURCHASE.

St. Louis, March 9.—It is stated in local railroad circles that the interest of the Wabash road in the Bluff line, St. Louis, Alton & Springfield railroad, has been purchased by Post, Martin & Co., of New York, who represent a syndicate of capitalists already interested in this line.

The line extends from Bates, near Springfield, to Alton, 76 miles, with a branch to Grafton, eight miles. It is said it may become a link for the Illinois Central or some other line anxious to extend to the Mississippi river.

DISASTROUS BLAZE.

Chicago, March 9.—Fire broke out in the six-story building at 195 and 197 Michigan street at 1:30 this morning and the structure and contents were entirely destroyed.

IT WAS ALL A HOAX.

The Constable at West Toledo Arrests a Straw Man.

Justice Allen is Roused Out of Bed to Pass Judgment on the Unfortunate, and He Does

The boys at West Toledo had a lively time the other night, during which a justice of the peace, constable and ex-constable contributed in no small part to the pleasure of the event.

On Friday a stranger was seen lounging about the corners. He paid repeated visits to the bar, and before long had a comfortable jag aboard. He gave no account of himself to anyone, but kept aloof from the populace in general.

He acted rather queerly and he was soon put down as a suspicious character.

After much gossip it was finally concluded that he was a full-fledged burglar with evil intentions against the peace and quietude of the village.

The villain must be thwarted in his plot to rob and plunder the worldly goods of the villagers.

Constable Buck was taken into the council of war, which resulted in an agreement that it would be wise for that official to keep his eye on the mysterious stranger.

The constable kept his man under his eye all day, but discovered nothing in his actions to warrant the execution of his official authority.

Night came, the stranger disappeared, and the officer repaired to his home.

About 9 o'clock Friday night, just as the constable was about to retire, there came a knock at his door. He responded and was confronted by one of the citizens with the information that the stranger had been shadowed down a certain alley, and was breaking into a barn.

The officer was into his clothes in a jiffy, and procuring his weapons, followed his guide to the entrance of the alley. On the way they met ex-Constable Stanbury, he was pressed into service.

When the entrance to the alley was reached it was decided that Stanbury would go around to the other end of the alley, and at a given signal both men would close in and nab the burglar.

The arrangement was carried out to the letter, and both men arrived within sight of each other near the barn, where their prey was said to be at work.

Sure enough, there stood their man, peeking through a crack in the stable door.

An instant later both men pounced down upon the unfortunate stranger with "Up with your hands. You're our prisoner!" The man fell over, a dark lantern flashed, and, to their surprise, the burglar consisted of a bundle of straw and old clothes.

The laugh was on the constables, but they concluded to get even.

Not long after, Justice of the Peace Allen was aroused from a peaceful slumber and informed that his presence was urgently desired at the office to try a burglar who had been captured.

'Squire Allen wanted to know who he was.

The messenger said the man wouldn't talk. "You can bet I'll make him talk," remarked the 'squire as he lunged for his hat.

When he arrived at the office, of course the laugh was on the j. p., but that individual was not asleep.

He went through the trial, cleared the prisoner, and taxed the constables for the costs.

How They Differ.

In make up: Most baking powders contain ammonia or alum. Cleveland's does not; not a particle.

It is made of pure cream of tartar and bi-carbonate of soda, with a little flour to keep the strength, nothing else. Cleveland's is wholesome.

In strength: A rounded spoonful of Cleveland's does better work than a heaping spoonful of any other.

A large saving on a year's bakings. Cleveland's leavens most.

In results: Cake made with Cleveland's is fine grained, keeps moist and fresh.

Cleveland's leavens best.

On March 9th, 1451, the man after whom this country was named, Amerigo Vespucius, was born in Florence.

His false claim that he came to the New World before Columbus deceived the Academy of Strassburg, which called the new continent America and thus robbed Columbus of the distinction which the christening should have given him.

He Refuses to Forgive His Eloping Daughter but Gives Her a Check for Two Thousand Dollars.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 9.—Earnest Wakefield, aged 21 years, and a society man of limited means, and Miss Ida Jones Clark, aged 18, daughter of Dr. H. H. Clark, the physician and iron manufacturer, were secretly married and are now in Chicago on their honeymoon trip.

Last summer the young couple met frequently at the exposition, and subsequently Wakefield, who was a clerk in a clothing house, became a regular caller at the Clark residence.

Several weeks ago the young man asked Dr. Clark for his daughter's hand. Clark promptly refused and forbade his daughter seeing Wakefield any more.

The couple drove to the residence of Rev. Mr. Satchel, pastor of the Allegheny Methodist church, and he married them. After the ceremony they went home to receive the parental blessing, but the doctor raised a row, gave them a check for $2,000 and told them to leave and never return.

ANOTHER PIONEER DEAD.

Bernard Daly Passed Away Yesterday After a Short Illness.

Mr. Bernard Daly, a well known citizen who has lived in Toledo over 30 years, died at his home, 828 Michigan street, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Daly was never ill a day in his life until a week ago when he was taken suddenly, but not seriously ill. His death came as a painful surprise to friends and family, all of whom have the sympathy of a large circle of acquaintances. The funeral occurs to-morrow morning from St. Francis de Sales church.

New President and New Superintendent Appointed.

A meeting of the trustees of the Boys' Industrial school at Lancaster was held yesterday at Columbus, and several matters of business were disposed of. Trustee Beatty, of Toledo, resigned as president, and Hon. B. S. Wydman, of Cincinnati, was unanimously chosen in his stead. The board also requested the resignation of the present democratic superintendent, Hon. J. C. Hite, and informally elected Capt. D. M. Barrett, of Hillsboro, as his successor, the appointment to take effect on the retirement of Mr. Hite. Capt. Barrett served acceptably for a year as superintendent, but was relieved two years ago with the change of administration. A BLAST FURNACE.

New York Capitalists May Locate One in Toledo.

Hon. N. H. Swayne is in receipt of a letter from a New York capitalist regarding the establishment of a blast furnace in this city.

From the tone of the letter it is gathered that a company has already been formed and that a suitable place is now all that is desired.

Asked regarding it this morning Mr. Swayne said he knew little about it more than that implied in the letter.

It is evidently the old project revived, and Mr. Swayne believes a blast furnace will be erected and in operation on the East Side within a year.

WHERE IS HUTCHINSON?

Some Anxiety Felt Over the Absence of an Insurance Manager.

For a week or more considerable anxiety has been felt over the prolonged absence from the city of Assistant Manager Hutchinson, of the Sandusky Insurance company. Inquiry at the office in the Walbridge building by a Bee to-day failed to elicit any information. The manager is out of the city and the young man in charge did not know, it seemed, as if such an individual as Mr. Hutchinson exists.

Mr. Alexander, formerly connected with the association, says he knows nothing of Mr. Hutchinson. He has inquired for him several times during the past three weeks, but without eliciting anything definite as to his whereabouts.

LAKE SHORE TELEGRAPHERS

Held a Meeting Last Evening and Decided to See President Newell.

The Lake Shore telegraphers held another meeting in this city last evening to take up the matter of their petition to the officials of the road for higher wages, etc. The officials to whom the petition was submitted have as yet given the operators no answer. After discussing the matter at length the men decided to present their case to President Newell and ask for as early an answer as possible. It is probable that no final agreement will be reached inside of two weeks, and that another meeting will be held before President Newell gives his answer.

The operators are confident that they will be met fairly. While those interested do not think that everything in the petition will be granted they are of the opinion that the company will accede to the requests of the telegraphers in a modified form.

HASKELL GETS IT

For Appointing a Democrat as Deputy United States Marshal.

The Toledo Republican club met last evening, and discussed organization for the spring campaign. The first business, however, to claim attention was the following, offered by County Commissioner Englehardt:

Whereas, It is understood that the United States marshal for the northern district of Ohio has appointed a democratic deputy for the city of Toledo, and

Whereas, It is now and has been in the past, understood that there are at least a few worthy and competent members of the republican party who could and would fill that office to the perfect satisfaction of the people, therefore, be it

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Toledo Republican club, in regular monthly meeting assembled, that said appointment is unworthy of the newly appointed marshal, and an injury to the republican party of Toledo, and this club recommends that said United States marshal, the Hon. Mr. Haskell, of Ashtabula, be requested to hereafter make appointments from the ranks of the party to which he owes his official position.

Resolved further, That a copy of this resolution be sent to the United States marshal by the secretary of the club.

After discussion, the resolutions were adopted unanimously.

The directors elected several new members at the conclusion of the regular meeting.

A special meeting of the board of trustees of the Protestant hospital was held at the First Congregational church this morning. Several matters of importance were passed upon.

Building permits have been issued to Eugene Sullivan for a $700 frame dwelling on Prouty avenue; to George E. Myers, for a $600 frame dwelling on Colburn street, and to Wm. Mayer for a $1,600 frame dwelling on Bancroft street.

Under the name of wire glass a new invention has been brought on the market in Dresden. The process of manufacture consists in furnishing glass in a hot, plastic condition with a flexible metallic layer, iron wire netting, for instance, which is completely inclosed by the vitreous substance and effectively protected against exterior influences, as rust, etc. The new glass possesses much greater resisting power than the ordinary material, and is, it is claimed, indifferent to the most abrupt changes in temperature, and will even withstand open fire. The glass is specially adapted for skylights, the powerful resisting qualities of the material enabling the usual wire protectors to be dispensed with. As wire glass cannot be cut by the diamond, except under the application of great force, and cannot be broken without creating considerable noise, the substance is claimed to be, in a measure, burglar-proof.

TOM PURNEY RESIGNS

The Presidency of the Finlay Brewing Co.

He Follows in the Footsteps of Mr. Eppstein—Cause, Ill Health—No Successor Yet Appointed.

T. C. Purney has resigned the presidency of the Finlay Brewing company.

A special meeting of the directors was held last evening and the resignation was accepted.

The cause assigned for Mr. Purney's resignation is ill health and the directors passed a resolution complimentary to Mr. Purney's management and expressing regret at his resignation.

The stepping down and out following so closely on the heels of Manager Eppstein has caused somewhat of a surprise.

No successor was appointed at last night's meeting, and it is probable the board of directors will run the institution without the aid of a president.

The matter of appointing a manager was discussed, but definite action was deferred until some future meeting.

THE PRODUCTS OF NATURE CANNOT BE IMITATED.

The remarkable merit of the Carlsbad Sprudel Salt, which is produced by the City of Carlsbad, by the evaporation of the Carlsbad Sprudel Water, has been known to the civilized world for more than five centuries. It has achieved its unapproached reputation and retains it wholly on its merits. It is a natural remedy which is always effective in all disorders of the stomach, liver and kidneys; for habitual constipation, gouty and rheumatic affections, it is without equal. It has been largely imitated. Be sure to obtain the genuine imported article, which must have the seal of the City of Carlsbad and the signature of "Eisner & Mendelson Co., New York, Sole Agents," on every bottle.

City Auditor's Office.

Toledo, O., March 8th, 1892.

The committee on ways and means of the common council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, and the undersigned, invite sealed proposals at this office to

MONDAY, APRIL 11TH, 1892,

at 7 o'clock p. m. for the purchase of Street Improvement Bonds to the amount of Twenty-five Thousand Three Hundred and Thirty-seven 74-100 ($25,337 74-100) Dollars, bearing date March 6, 1892, and payable as follows: Fifteen Hundred and Eighty-seven 74-100 Dollars, ($1,587 74-100) on March 6, 1893, and Twelve Hundred and Fifty Dollars at the expiration of every six months thereafter, to and including September 6, 1902, at the office of the city treasurer with interest at the rate of five (5) per cent. per annum, payable semi-annually at the same place as evidenced by coupons to be attached to said bonds.

Said Improvement Bonds are issued pursuant to Section 2704 to 2707 of the Revised Statutes of the State of Ohio, and also under an ordinance of the common council of the City of Toledo, Ohio, "To provide for the issue of improvement bonds to pay the cost and expense of the improvement of Front street, from Bridge street to Port Clinton Turnpike."—Passed Feb. 15th, 1892.

The denominations of these bonds will be first payment one bond of $337 74-100 and two of $625 each, and thereafter two of $625 each payment.

The said bonds will be sold at not less than par and accrued interest, to the highest bidder.

Bidders will be required to state the gross amount they will pay for the bonds besides the accrued interest to date of delivery at Toledo, Ohio. They will also be required to deposit with each bid an amount of money or a certified check on some responsible bank equal to at least five (5) per centum of the par value of the bonds, so bid for, as a guarantee of good faith, and that the bid so made (if successful) will be fulfilled in accordance with the terms thereof, and the requirements of the law and ordinances. When the bids have been examined, and the award made according to law, all monies or checks deposited as guarantees shall be returned to the depositor, or held by the city auditor subject to his call except that of the successful bidder, which shall be held and considered, and accepted as part payment of the bonds so awarded or sold, but should there be any repudiation of the contract or agreement, or refusal to accept and pay for the bonds so sold, then and in that case the deposit shall be forfeited to the city of Toledo, and shall become the property of said city, in compensation for loss and expenses attending the sale of said bonds and as liquidated damages for repudiation of bid. And no bid will be received if not accompanied by money or check aforesaid.

The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Proposals should be addressed to the Auditor of the city of Toledo, Ohio," and be indorsed "Proposals for improvement bonds."

Free-trade England is sending bread to the protected laborers of Germany.

Georgia has paid out $600,000 for confederate pensions within three months. Where's Col. Shepard and his bazoo? Something should be done.

Chilean newspapers, naturally, are asking what wages are paid such sailors as have been setting price upon their wounds and scratches received in the Baltimore scrimmage. Such high-priced individuals must be appreciated and salaried accordingly by the United States government.

An amusing New York organ is having a furious time because Walker and Osborne (as it says) occupy seats in the New York senate, given them through a legal technicality. Did the organ never hear of a United States president who occupied his seat for four years by virtue of a legal technicality, temporarily created?

Mr. Tarsney, of Missouri, a soldier with a most honorable record, has introduced a per diem service pension bill. He says, in extenuation of his proposed measure, he doesn't want to see men who served beside him four years in the war drawing a pension of $8 a month while men who had never gotten to the front and had never smelled powder are drawing $12. Sounds like pretty good logic.

Every nation on the earth but one has contributed to the Bismarck monument fund, which now amounts to $249,000. The one exception is the United States of America.—Exchange.

Our Uncle Sam is too busy and too poor. Besides what sentiment in theory, or what deeds in actuality can be credited to the Iron Chancellor that democratic America desires to see enshrined as noble and worthy of emulation? Perhaps New York will send something—left over from the Grant fund.

No wonder New York state can't go to the world's fair in any kind of shape. Gov. Flower has just signed a bill appropriating $800,000 more for that state capital. The original plan called for $4,000,000; the sum of $18,690,000 has been already expended and $2,250,000 more will be needed, making the entire cost, if it is ever finished, about $21,000,000. More than five times the original estimate. A grand monument to New York state political methods and morals.

Hostilities to trusts are embodied in three bills before congress. The bill of Mr. Breckenridge, of Kentucky, provides that articles included in trusts, pools and combinations shall be declared free of import duty, and that the president shall be empowered to do this. With the grant of power to the president by the McKinley reciprocity attachment, as established precedent, the measure is consistent and practicable. Eventually the declaration of taxation may fall upon the executive, and we shall have, next to Russia, a despotic government. The idea of declaring free of duty the articles held by a trust strikes at the root of the trust evil, but the grant of such power to the executive is unwarranted and dangerous, the supreme court to the contrary notwithstanding.

PLEASANT REUNIONS.

The Hon. John Lawrence Sullivan, P. G. (punch 'em good), re-enters the prize ring like a cyclone, and particularly announces his purpose to keep the championship in "the land of the free and the home of the brave." That's good. The reunions of the mugs will include the Australian, Slavin, the sprinter, Mitchell, and the banker, Corbett. The season will be jolly.

ONCE MORE OLD GLORY.

The administration firmly demands that England shall assist in preserving the seal fisheries until such time as the whole subject can be arbitrated. England objects, but there is no present fear that either the insistence of the President or the persistence of Salisbury's refusal will involve the two countries in more than a diplomatic controversy. However, Old Glory supports Mr. Harrison and it is to be hoped he will make the best of the bargain.

THE PRESIDENT'S LEVY.

It is two months since the administration served notice on a half dozen small South American republics that they must revise their tariff laws to meet the requirements of this government, or duty would be levied on sugar, molasses, tea and hides, imported from those countries. There is one week more of grace. Merchants in New York doing business with these countries considered it something of a bluff, to move the little republics to action. But they show no signs of scare, or any indication to hustle in accordance with Mr. President's demand. The Colombian congress will not convene until July 1, and the state department is not empowered to deal with the question. Congress is in session in Venezuela, but shows no sign of paying any attention to orders from the Harrison government. About one-tenth of our South American coffee ($10,000,000 worth) comes from Venezuela, and the coffee trade must feel the effect of the change. A New York firm which has dealings with Colombian business houses gives the New York Commercial Bulletin a letter to print, an extract from which runs as follows:

We have the greatest respect for your firm, and we are very sorry to part after such a satisfactory connection extending over a period of thirty years; but when your government imposes such unjust conditions upon our business with you, we will have to do our business with Europe in future.

The tariff proclaimed on coffee will be three cents a pound, amounting to a prohibition of that article of import. All sugars above number 20 Dutch standard of color, two cents per pound. Just what will be the effect of this application of the new law remains to be seen. It will hardly further the cause of "Pan Americanism."

English journals are boasting that it was Lord Salisbury's influence in Chile that averted a conflict and not President Harrison's bluster. It's quite annoying to be provoked so often into reminding those blanked Englishmen across the water what the Yankee Doodle crowd have done, on various occasions, for them and their ancestors. Lord Salisbury knew if we were obliged to take Chile to task he might get his own ears boxed in the operation, metaphorically speaking. Did he hear any accusations at an early stage of the trouble that, through hatred of Egan and what he represents, the English were fomenting the disturbance? The supposition is that we attended to our own business if we did bungle it.

The Washington correspondent finds out lots of things that no other fellow knows anything about till he tells him. He knows that it is on the slate to nominate James G. at Minneapolis; that the letter of withdrawal was written for temporary harmony; that Mister Reed says Harrison is a stupid man, that John Sherman is "too old," and that Harrison blames Wanamaker for not putting Pennsylvania in shape for him and that Wanny isn't doing it because he doesn't want to; that Reid came home from Paris because he got sick of French gabble and couldn't learn to speak a word of it, and no end of other things that make for harmony.

"Character in hand-writing" has had something of a discourager in the recent antic of the New York World. Its readers were permitted to guess upon a sentiment in exact fac simile, and all the eminent men in the country were declared guilty. The sentence was written by Carlyle Harris, the wife murderer, confined in the Tombs. The trouble must have been with the fac simile. It is the personality of the writer that goes off the pen's point, and the print fails to catch it.

The first news heard of the Beaver Island mail carriers, the Le Blanc brothers, whom it was feared were frozen to death between their home and Cross Village (on the main land, at the Straits of Mackinac) weeks ago, came to hand the third of this month. They reached the island at last with frozen feet and hands, and the Islanders quickly made up a purse of $100 for them. The mail is now being carried by dogs and sleds on safe ice.

Chile has some patriots at least. Senora Dona Juana Edwards, the mother of the minister of finance, contributed $855,000 from her private fortune for the congressional party in the late war. The government will need more private contributions of the kind when it pays its two or three millions to the United States sailors.

Handsome concession from Boston: "Even allowing that Jerry Simpson is making himself obtrusively prominent in congress, has he not as good a right to make a spread of his questionable wit and sense as though he were sent from a district within 20 miles of cultured Boston?"

The Buffalo News calls the attention of its state legislators to the fact that it isn't the stopping drinking that kills the Keeley-cured man; it is the beginning again that fetches him.

James G. Blaine II, the newly divorced, it is said, will soon marry rich Miss Patten of Washington. He needs an additional pocketbook to help support his numerous family.

A Boston physician says "we are going at too rapid a rate," which means that the rest of the country is getting away from Boston.

Watch out for President Harrison to jingo England on the Bering Sea question as he went for little Chile!

Patriotism and War.

Secretary Proctor believes the Indians can be civilized by enlisting them as soldiers in the United States army. This suggests the claim that the country can only be assured of the patriotism of its citizens by an occasional war. There are those who believe that if patriotism can only be sustained by blood-letting it is not much of a virtue for civilized nations to cultivate.—Chicago Times.

THE ERROR DID NOT COUNT.

Findlay, March 9.—The council opened bids for about $15,000 worth of sewerage work. Sixteen contractors, including firms in Toledo, Lima, Springfield, Fostoria, and Columbus, submitted estimates, that of J. J. Rumsey, of Fostoria, being about $5,000 below any other.

During the consideration of the bids a telegram was received from Rumsey stating he had made an error in his estimates and asking to withdraw his bid.

The council refused to allow this and awarded the contract to Mr. Rumsey and he will have to do the work at a loss or have a legal tussle with the city.

NEW CORPORATIONS.

H. McLain Machine company, Canton, amendment changing the name to the J. H. McLain company; the World's Fair club, Cincinnati; the Western Reserve Historical society, Cleveland.

TOLEDO'S GAS EXPERIENCE.

A Reminder of the Past and a Suggestion for the Future.

To the Editor: When the city pipe line was first proposed to the taxpayers it was by the passage of an enabling act to show the Standard Gas company the city's ability to build and maintain a gas line, though it was represented we should not need to do so as the ability, if shown, would accomplish the object sought.

After a time the taking of a vote was pressed and with hard work, the sixty per cent. was obtained. Next came the appointment of five advocates of a pipe line as trustees. To enable them to sell bonds the people were assured gas could be furnished at one to three cents per thousand feet and make a profit sufficient to pay the bonds and city debt.

At this stage of the enterprise an opportunity was presented to the trustees to have refunded the money spent by them to date, and gas furnished to citizens for a period of not less than ten years at 7, 8 and 12 cents per thousand feet, if their gas did not fail in the field before that time.

But this offer was refused on the ground the price was too high, and to hurry the work the plan was adopted of paying in bonds twice the value of the pipe and work to complete the line into the city. And to at once serve to a portion of the people cheap gas, three times the value in promises was paid.

On positive assurance of the trustees that they could furnish gas, factories went to a great expense to prepare to use gas, and the failure has caused them a great loss.

About five thousand private consumers have been served but have not found it reliable and with little pressure.

After buying some more wells the trustees find themselves with little gas and without money to maintain the enterprise and are asking for more bonds or money.

From the experience of the past and the present situation, will the taxpayers grant it? Is it wise? Should we invest another dollar until the business is placed in the hands of men of experience in the business; men who depend on their experience to make the business engaged in a success; men who will work to maintain and protect the million now expended and bring from it a profit if it is possible; men who appreciate the value of the property and who would work to obtain it, or, if found a failure, limit the loss?

As a city, we never yet had any occasion to go into the gas business. Gas was being furnished us cheaper than the city can and for as long a time if not longer. And the men in charge should have gone out of business when they had accomplished the object for which they were appointed. But as they would not, they should have tried to place the enterprise on a paying basis. They should have divided the territory, saving miles of pipe and labor, yet getting a better average consumer and as many as they could supply. They should have asked twelve cents or more per thousand feet, until they had reduced the gas bonds and paid off the city debt, doing justice to all concerned. Then it would have been time enough to reduce the price and furnish cheap gas.

Is it right that one taxpayer should pay 12 cents for gas and then pay a tax so another shall get it at 8 cents? Have we found it wise to put one million dollars in an uncertain business into the hands of men with no experience in the business, devoting such time as they choose to it and an opportunity to leave when the fancy suited them? Great corporations get men of experience or educate them before they put them in charge.

Taxpayers, it is not sentiment now. It is money. Shall it be business? Soon, very soon, new legislation is to be introduced at Columbus. Will you shape it or the contractor and his friends?

H. S. WALBRIDGE.

SYMPTOMS OF POISONING.

Shelby, O., March 9.—Saturday being the twenty-fifth wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Keith about 75 of their friends gathered at their pleasant home to celebrate the occasion.

An elegant dinner was spread, which was thoroughly enjoyed by all. Late in the evening nearly all that had attended the party were taken violently ill and suffered excruciating pain all night and a good portion of yesterday.

It is thought that the sickness was caused by eating peaches at the dinner which had been canned in tin.

FR. MULHANE DENIES IT.

Mt. Vernon, O., March 9.—A sensation was created yesterday by the rumor that Rev. L. W. Mulhane, the priest of the Catholic parish of St. Vincent De Paul, of this city, who was recently accused of gross immorality during a visit in Chattanooga, has been removed by the bishop. Father Mulhane says he is considering the question of leaving here, but says that it is not by order of Bishop Watterson.

DEATH FROM BLOOD POISONING

Akron, O., March 9.—Frank Baldwin died at his home from blood poisoning. One week ago Saturday he was washing a glass in the saloon in which he was bartender when it broke and cut his hand. A piece of glass gave him much pain. It was cut out the next day, but erysipelas set in and soon spread over his entire body and finally caused his death.

A FARMER'S ASSIGNMENT.

Millersburg, O., March 9.—Henry F. Schnell, a farmer of Salt Creek township, has made an assignment to John D. Armstrong. Liabilities largely in excess of assets. His chattels were levied on by the sheriff on judgments taken, which forced the assignment last night.

Superintendent Morris Causes Some Fun.

Several weeks ago J. S. Morris, of Toledo, superintendent of the local division of the T. W. & O. railroad, was in the city and Agent W. H. Delong, in order to make his stay a pleasant one, brought out his money-making machine and proceeded to make a few dollars to the well-expressed surprise of the Toledo man. Mr. Morris pretended to be much taken with the money, so much so that he insisted on keeping one of the bright, new paper dollars to show his friends. Delong sweat pails of perspiration in trying to get it back, but it was no go, and he despaired of ever seeing the dollar again. This morning "Billy" Irwin, assistant ticket agent, and Frank Fast, yard master, volunteered to get the money back for a commission of 50 per cent. Delong agreed, but when Fast pulled out a letter from Morris containing his dollar bill he kicked himself repeatedly. As a result all the boys smoked good cigars at Delong's expense. —Mansfield Shield and Banner.

ANOTHER PIPE LINE.

It is to Transport Crude Oil, Not Gas.

A Gigantic Venture by the Paragon Oil Refining Company.

Aother pipe line for Toledo, but this time it is not gas but oil.

As an oil refining center Toledo does not occupy last place by quite a few.

There are several extensive oil refineries in the city, which are doing a big business and growing and improving every year.

The Paragon Refining company is the latest to take a gigantic stride in advance.

This company has just completed a four inch pipe line from Gibsonburg, Sandusky county, to the refinery at Ironville, a distance of over 25 miles. The project has been pushed to a finish quietly, but with dispatch, and the first run of oil will be made this week.

This step was made necessary on account of the immense output of the plant exhausting the supply of crude as transported by rail. The capacity of the line is about 2,500 barrels per day. An immense pump has been located at Gibsonburg, which will afford the pressure to transport the oil.

Another line is being constructed from Bradner, Wood county, to Gibsonburg, a distance of 10 miles. This will consist of three inch pipe and will serve as a feeder to the main line, with a pump station at Bradner.

The oil will be pumped into immense storage tanks at the works in this city.

ThParagon will make other extensive improvements during the coming season.

OUR NATIONAL DIGNITY.

It Must be Maintained at All Hazards.

The President's Note to Lord Salisbury Was of a Very Pointed Nature.

New York, March 9.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says that during the cabinet meeting yesterday President Harrison informed the members present that he had returned an answer to Lord Salisbury's note through Sir Julian Pauncefote yesterday.

It is said the answer reviewed the points in dispute and to have reaffirmed the ownership of the United States in all the seals in Bering sea, wherever found, without regard to the former contention and to have plainly intimated that but for England's delay the whole question might before this have been settled by arbitration.

During the interchange of opinions between the president and the members of his cabinet it was developed that this, as well as in all other international disputes, we must firmly maintain our national dignity.

A MISSING MAN FOUND.

Washington C. H., March 9.—Much interest was created here in the report that Rev. E. B. Lewis, the New Holland postmaster, who has been missing from home for the past three weeks, had surrendered himself to United States marshal Simmons at Cincinnati yesterday. Many were of the opinion that he had been foully dealt with and his body disposed of. His bondsmen have made good the deficiency of $311 in the postoffice and manifest no inclination to prosecute the case.

INJURED BY A TRAIN.

Cardington, O., March 9.—Wyant Merriman, of Westfield township, was found by the section men about three miles south of this place beside the railroad track. He was lying in a pool of water and his head was badly cut. He was placed on a handcar and brought to this place, where he soon died. It is supposed that he was thrown from the track by one of the night trains.

Help yourself to get rid of that cough or cold, or any asthmatic or throat trouble by using Dr. D. Jayne's Expectorant.

THE SPRING GARDEN BANK.

Director Evans Charged With Having Embezzled $60,000.

Philadelphia, March 9.—Nelson F. Evans, one of the directors of the looted Spring Garden National bank, has been arrested on a warrant sworn out by the government expert who has been examining the books of the bank, charging him with embezzling $60,000.

The books showed that Evans had overdrawn his account and borrowed large sums on worthless securities. In addition he was implicated in extensive check-kiting schemes.

Mr. Evans was the head of a dry goods firm which failed recently with heavy liabilities and light assets.

How's Your Liver?

Is the Oriental salutation, knowing that good health cannot exist without a healthy Liver. When the Liver is torpid the Bowels are sluggish and constipated, the food lies in the stomach undigested, poisoning the blood; frequent headache ensues; a feeling of lassitude, despondency and nervousness indicate how the whole system is deranged. Simmons Liver Regulator has been the means of restoring more people to health and happiness by giving them a healthy Liver than any agency known on earth. It acts with extraordinary power and efficacy.

NEVER BEEN DISAPPOINTED.

As a general family remedy for dyspepsia, Torpid Liver, Constipation, etc., I hardly ever use anything else, and have never been disappointed in the effect produced; it seems to be almost a perfect cure for all diseases of the Stomach and Bowels.

WHAT DOES IT MATTER?

Wealth and glory, place and power,
What are they worth to me or you?
For the lease of a life runs out in an hour,
And death stands ready to claim his due;
Sounding honors or heaps of gold,
What are they all when all is told?

A pain or a pleasure, a smile or a tear—
What does it matter what we claim?
For we step from the cradle into the bier,
And a careless world goes on the same,
Hours of gladness or hours of sorrow,
What does it matter to us to-morrow?

Truth of love or vow of friend—
Tender caresses or cruel sneers—
What do they matter to us in the end?
For the brief day dies and the long night nears
Passionate kisses or tears of gall,
The grave will open and cover them all.

Homeless vagrant, or honored guest,
Poor and humble, or rich and great—
All are racked with the world's unrest.
All must meet with the common fate.
Life from childhood till we are old,
What is all when all is told?

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

MISS RANDALL'S ERROR

A broad expanse of water, dotted here and there with tiny white-sailed boats, overhead a soft pearl-tinted sky, the sweet breath of the pines floating up from the forest near, mingled with the odor of a thousand blossoms; it was a lovely scene.

I think I was perfectly happy that morning as I strolled along down the shining beach. I was young and hopeful—life looked fair to me that summer day, and, better than all else, Lloyd Cameron loved me.

I was a poor overworked governess, and had come to this fair seaside retreat to look after Mrs. Gray's three olive branches. I was only Nellie Lee, a little nobody. Yet Lloyd Cameron, handsome, rich and decidedly eligible, had asked me to be his wife. But I cared little for his wealth and position, and would have answered yes just as quickly had he been poor and obscure, for I loved him and believed in his affection for me. And we were betrothed, although the engagement was to remain a secret until Mrs. Gray should signify her intention of returning to her city home.

I was thinking of it all this fair morning, as I strolled along the white beach, for once free from the troublesome exactions of the school-room and with a half hour at my disposal. Pacing slowly to and fro—a slight, slim figure in a gray cashmere dress and a big sun hat with a wreath of scarlet poppies—I was reviewing my own situation. I had no one to consult, for I was utterly alone in the world and dependent upon my own exertions. I had neither grace nor beauty; why, then, had Lloyd Cameron loved me? I thought of my sallow face framed in by waves of dark hair, and lit up by a pair of big, owlish eyes, and contrasted my tout ensemble with the beautiful, high-bred ladies who had flocked to this fashionable seaside resort; and it seemed all to good to be true.

Buried in meditation, I did not hear a footstep coming down the beach until a voice accosted me.

"Miss Lee, if you please, Mrs. Gray wants to see you at the hotel."

Only one of the servants. Ah, well, what was I but a hireling also? Though Nellie Lee had seen better days. All the same, I must obey my mistress, so I hastened to seek Mrs. Gray in her luxurious apartment—a stylish blonde beauty in a handsome negligee of white lawn and Valenciennes lace. As I entered she lifted her sleepy blue eyes and nodded curtly.

"I have a few words, to say to you, Miss Lee, she began, in her cold, cutting voice, which somehow always had power to make my heart beat faster with a dread of something unpleasant to come. 'I wished to observe," she went on "that I—ah—do not approve of your behavior; your conduct with Mr. Cameron is reprehensible!"

"Madam!"

"I do not like it—that is enough—quite," she went on viciously, her face growing crimson with anger. "It is getting to be the talk of the place! You are seen with him at all hours, and it—"

"Madam—Mrs. Gray!" I burst forth, unable to longer restrain my indignation. "I will not submit to this outrage!"

"Very well. Here is your quarter's salary; you are discharged, Miss Lee!"

And as I turned to leave the room she added, cruelly:

"Perhaps you are not aware that Mr. Cameron is engaged to Miss Belle Arnold of Boston, and that she will arrive here to-day?"

It was a fearful blow, but I bore it somehow. I rushed upstairs to my own room, too excited to think. I would pack my few belongings and get away at once. Some other employment would be open to me; surely God would not forsake me utterly.

Just as I reached the head of the stairs I saw Lloyd Cameron coming down the long vestibule; I would have turned back, but he caught my hand and detained me a moment.

'Nellie," he whispered softly, "come down to the beach, will you? I want to talk to you."

"I will go," I said to myself. "It is best. I will tell him all and set him free. What, indeed, is the bond between us, since he is betrothed to another woman?"

Ten minutes later I was seated upon a great shadowy rock upon the beach, and Lloyd Cameron was at my side. How handsome he looked in the bright morning sunshine, my dark-eyed, noble lover. Sitting there I told him all that had transpired; he listened with flashing eyes.

"It is false, Nellie!" he cried passionately. "All false, my darling! And to prove that I do love you, little one, I ask you to be my wife now—at once! I can readily procure a license. There is a church not far from this place. Come, Nellie, let us go there. No preparations are necessary; be my wife, and give me the right to shield you and protect you from all life's storms.'

He urged and pleaded, and of course the result is easily guessed. That afternoon we went to the little ivy-covered church a half mile distant, and the words were spoken which made me the wife of Lloyd Cameron. I was perfectly happy, and all the clouds had disappeared from my sky.

Returning to the hotel, I went up to my own little chamber to pack my trunk, for Lloyd would take me away in a few hours. Working away hurriedly at my packing, my heart light as a feather with hope and happiness, I suddenly heard the tones of a shrill, sharp voice in the room adjoining mine.

I knew that voice; it belonged to Miss Randall, a dear friend and confidante of Mrs. Gray—an elderly lady with a vinegar visage and a disposition that corresponded. A veteran gossip, she never lost an opportunity for information in regard to her neighbors' affairs, and rarely failed to do mischief.

"Why, my dear Belle," she cried, shrilly, "when did you arrive? So glad to see you! Time you came, too, I think, if the truth was known! I tell you, my dear, it does not pay to leave a handsome and fascinating lover among such a bevy of pretty girls as are gathered here! I don't wish to alarm you, Belle, but really, Mr. Cameron has been amusing himself with a young person entirely below his station—a nursemaid—or—something—with the absurdly aristocratic name of Lee!"

"Yes?" There was a fine scorn in the sweet voice which answered the old gossip. "Indeed, Miss Randall, I assure you—!"

"But it is something serious," persisted the old woman, "and it ought to be stopped. The girl is a low, common person, of course, and I say it is a shame!"

"Miss Randall!"

How my heart thrilled at the sound of that voice. It was Lloyd Cameron, and through the open door of Mrs. Gray's little parlor he had heard the entire conversation.

"Miss Randall," he continued, sternly, "I beg your pardon for this intrusion; but perhaps you are not aware that you are insulting my wife."

"Great heavens!"

I heard Miss Randall gasp the words, and then I threw open the door of my room just as Belle Arnold, a tall, handsome brunette, darted forward and caught me in her arms.

"Dear, dear! It is little Nellie Lee!" she cried. "My dear child, you've forgotten me, no doubt, but I used to be Belle Van Zandt when you lived in Boston, and we were schoolmates. I married Dick Arnold a year ago—dear old boy—he will be here to-day."

I knew her then—my old schoolmate and former friend in days of plenty and prosperity.

"You see, sweetheart," said Lloyd, putting his arm around me right there in the presence of the two ladies, "Belle and I are the best of friends, and I have made her my confidante in regard to you. Everybody here, taking Miss Randall's word for it, have believed us to be betrothed; but you know the truth at last. Miss Randall was introduced to her at a lawn party, and thought she was Miss Arnold. Her husband was not present, and I became her cavalier on the occasion, which little circumstance was quite enough for Miss Randall's imagination. She pronounced us engaged at once. Come, Nellie, I am going to take you home—to your own home, darling—and Mr. and Mrs. Arnold will accompany us, our welcome guests!"

And in the quiet of our luxurious home I was too contented and happy to trouble myself in regard to Miss Randall's inventions, which, after all, had failed to do their usual mischief. But one good result was obtained, for the old gossip became much more careful concerning details, and Lloyd declares that the community at large owes us a vote of thanks for the suppression of a nuisance.—Philadelphia Times.

They are not required, however, to stop in the middle of one already commenced, but are permitted to dance it out. Taking advantage of this law, just before midnight they divide the orchestra and form a new dance. Some of the orchestra rest until the others become fatigued when they relieve them.

Father Went 25 Miles to Get Cuticura and Feels Thankful and Wants Others to Do as He Did.

My child broke out with scrofula when two months old, and we tried everything that the doctor could do. It took out his hair and broke out on his limbs and nose. It was then CUTICURA REMEDIES were recommended by our doctor who attended him and is now sitting here. The doctor said CUTICURA REMEDIES cured my child and recommends them for all diseases of the skin and blood. It did not take but one set of CUTICURA REMEDIES. I went 25 miles to get them. My child is well and has a fine head of hair as can be, for which I feel thankful to you, for my wife is in bad health. I have recommended CUTICURA REMEDIES to others. # AGREED TO SOME THINGS,

But Not to All the Requests Which Were Made

By the Committee of Ladies—Result of the Gathering at the Police Station Yesterday.

Several members of the police committee with City Engineer Wickenden and City Clerk Durian, met at the police station yesterday, and there, in company with a committee of ladies composed of Mrs. Segur, Mrs. Bissell, Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Dutton and Mrs. Bentley, made an inspection of the police matron's apartments. The ladies wanted a padded cell placed in the matron's room for women suffering with insanity or delirium tremens, and they also wanted some changes made in the partition which has just been placed in the matron's detention room. This partition is built of inch lumber, dressed, and is over 11 feet high, but does not reach the ceiling by two feet.

The ladies thought that this partition should go to the ceiling and should be made heavier, so as to cut off all communication between the two apartments. They also wanted a door cut through the wall from one of these rooms to that of the matron. At present the entrance to the detention room is from the hall.

The committee did not deem it advisable to put in the door as requested or to put the padded cell in the matron's room. They decided to place the padded cell in one of the detention rooms and to have the wooden partition built up to the ceiling and made heavier, and this will make a great improvement.

VILE AND UNWORTHY

Of consideration are nostrums of which it is asserted—and there are many such—that they cure immediately bodily ailments of long standing. There are none such that can. Chronic disorders cannot be instantaneously removed. Continuity in the use of a genuine medicine, such as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, will eradicate chronic physical evils. Not the least of these last in the force of its opposition to medicine is constipation, to the removal of which, if persisted in, the Bitters is particularly adapted. Constriction of the bowels is a complaint which should be dealt with early and systematically. So are its usual attendants, liver complaint and dyspepsia. For these, for malaria, rheumatism, kidney trouble, and more recently "la grippe," this highly and professionally commended medicine is an undoubted specific. Nothing can exceed it, moreover, as a means of imparting strength to the feeble and nervous.

Agent France made his monthly report, of which the following is a summary: Relief furnished to 10 persons; cases of cruelty and neglect to children, 9; to wife and family, 12; convictions for cruelty to wife and family, 2; admonitions for cruelty to children, 5; investigations not sustained for cruelty to family, 3; charges withdrawn by wife, 4; cases of desertion, 1; abuse to animals, 1; admonitions, 1; relief to animals, 2; animals laid up from service, 1; horses shot, 4; cases of neglect to cows, 1; number of incorrigibles, 2; boys sent to Lancaster, 1; to Delaware, 1; sent to Miami children's home, 5; total number of cases, 52; total number for January, 45.

Mrs. A. B. Cole and Mrs. Judge Seney, of the Children's home committee, reported on a visit to the home and stated that they found everything in good condition, with the new superintendent and wife in charge.

There are now in the home 88 children from 2 to 14 years of age.

It was suggested that an effort be made to furnish the little ones with good literature. They now have some books, but more are needed and the people are invited to send any children's books that they may be disposed.

The books can be left with any member of the society or board or if they are notified the books will be called for. Or a telephone message to the Bee will insure a notification of the board.

LETTER FROM CYRUS W. FIELD, JR.

8 East 56th Street,
New York, May 8, 1883.

Several times this winter I have suffered from severe colds on my lungs. Each time I have applied Allcock's Porous Plasters, and in every instance I have been quickly relieved by applying one across my chest and one on my back. My friends, through my advice, have tried the experiment, and also found it most successful. I feel that I can recommend them most highly to anyone who may see fit to try them.

SUPREME REPUBLICAN CALL

Thayer to Make Another Attempt to Oust Boyd.

The Governor Whom the People Turned Down Would Make a Good Running Mate for Foraker.

Lincoln, Neb., March 9.—The gubernatorial farce will be continued. After resisting for over a week the immense pressure brought to bear upon him Gen. Thayer affixed his signature to the affidavit and other papers necessary to reopen the case in the state supreme court, and the fight will be renewed.

It is understood that Thayer is preparing a statement for the press to set forth his position before the public.

The grounds of the action are understood to be that the question of Boyd's citizenship, and therefore his eligibility to hold office, has not been definitely settled, and that it remains for the state supreme court to construe the opinion properly.

The recent earthquake gave a good many eastern tourists at Los Angeles "a bad half hour." One guest at a leading hotel rushed panic-stricken into the bar-room, clad in a night-shirt, over which he had buttoned his vest, a pair of boots, and carrying an umbrella under his arm. He would have rushed out into the street but for the clerk.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

A Michigan Central Passenger Train

Derailed, Ditched, Torn From the Trucks,

Thrown on Its Side in Water, and, Strange to Say, No One Was Killed—The Injured Were Brought to Toledo.

About 6 o'clock this morning a train load of torn, bruised and somewhat shaken up travelers arrived in Toledo on a relief train that was sent out from this city during the night. They had had a miraculous escape, and were all thankful that it was no worse.

The Michigan Central passenger train, with through sleepers to Cincinnati and St. Louis, that leaves Detroit at 9:20 p. m., and arrives in Toledo at 11:40 p. m., started on its journey as usual last evening. When within about an hour's run from Toledo, the northbound train that leaves here at 9 p. m. was passed. Immediately afterward the engineer of the southbound train felt his engine raise in the air. He turned just in time to see his fireman, who had one foot on the tender, fall between the tender and the engine. The fireman rolled over into the ditch, which was full of water with a soft mud bottom. He was not injured, although the train at the time of his fall was moving at a speed of 45 miles an hour.

The tender was thrown into the ditch on the opposite side of the track.

The mischief was caused by a defective rail.

The mail car and the baggage cars were also ditched. The mail clerks escaped and floundered about in three feet of water, saving registered packages, etc.

The smoking car and the day coach were both torn from their trucks. The smoker remained upright, but at right angles to the track.

One of the stoves was partially overturned, and the red-hot coals burned the clothing of one of the passengers who had presence of mind enough to shovel them out of the car before any further damage was done.

It was a wonderful escape for everybody concerned. The St. Louis and Cincinnati sleepers were full of men and women. Both were thrown off the track, and laid on their sides in the ditch. Sleeping passengers were thrown from their berths and confusion reigned for a short time. The men worked heroically and succeeded in getting the women out safely. Several were badly injured, but none seriously. M. L. Read, of New York, received the worst injuries. He is resting quietly at the Boody house, and will be all right in a few days.

The passengers shivered about in the wet and cold for five hours before relief came in the shape of a train fro mToledo. Those who were slightly injured continued their journey, and the Bee was unable to secure their names.

Mr. W. A. Stewart, of Cincinnati, who was on the train, speaking to a Bee said that he never saw such a twisted up train with so little injury to the passengers. "When the shock came," he said, "I was sure it meant death to the sleeping passengers. We were pretty well shaken up and thankful that we escaped with our lives."

THE TOLEDO POSTOFFICE.

What Has Been Done During February.

Statement of Mail Matter Handled, Together with Some Figures of a Financial Character.

The business of the Toledo postoffice continues to steadily improve, as will be seen from the following report for the past month:

And that which has made her so is not merely the possession of artistic gifts, but of that genius which somebody has defined to be capacity of hard work. Bernhardt is said to be painstaking and studious. Even now, when she has reached the very zenith of her fame, when one would think that vigilance might grow lax, she allows no detail of work to escape her. With no thought of resting on her reputation, she puts forth her best efforts at every performance, and so it is that she grows continually. Famous ten years ago, she has climbed even higher in these intervening years, and though the play she prefers and the role she selects may not be altogether admirable to some of us, the spirit of her work in its thoroughness and its intelligence is worthy of all praise.

More Realism.

The Fire Patrol is the title of the latest melodrama, which is the offering of the People's next week for the week. In their search after realistic effects writers of melodrama have given us tanks without number, real fire engines, buzz saws, pile drivers, etc., etc., until the field would seem to be well nigh exhausted, but in the Fire Patrol we are promised a view of the interior of a gold stamp mill, such as are seen in the mining regions of Dakota, with the ponderous ore crushers in full operation. In addition, as the title of the play indicates, we shall see a genuine fire patrol wagon, horses, etc., doign their full duty at the proper moment. Criticism of the play has been very generous. In New York city, when it was lately produced, the press pronounced it a "hit." The play is said to be an exciting and well-constructed melodrama, with several very strong mechanical effects that are distinct novelties, and bearing all the indications of being a financial bonanza of large proportions.

Notes.

Mark Murphy, in O'Dowd's Neighbors, a laughable farce comedy, will be at Wheeler's next Monday evening for one night only.

The Wilbur Opera company will play a return engagement here for the week commencing March 28. This time they will play at Wheeler's opera house at popular prices.

Edward Baxter Perry, the famous lecturer and pianist, will give an entertainment at Whitney & Currier's hall, April 11. It will be a rare treat.

AN AGED WOMAN

Knocked Down by a Dorr Street Car,

Trampled on by Two Horses, Dragged Under the Wheels and Still Lives.

Tuesday evening about 7:30 o'clock a Dorr street car was coming down Washington street at a lively gait, as the car was filled, and it was down grade. At the corner of Thirteenth street an electric car was met going in an opposite direction. It was just at this point that an aged lady, Mrs. Margaret Delancy, who is hard of hearing, while attempting to get from in front of the electric car, stepped on the track right in front of the horses of the Dorr street car. The animals reared and the driver put on the brakes, but the car was coming down hill and it was impossible to stop it soon enough. The horses knocked the woman down and trampled over her body. The car did not come to a standstill until half of it had run over the unfortunate woman. Those who witnessed the accident rushed to the car and attempted to pull the woman from under, but the car was very low, and the body was wedged in tightly beneath. Finally enough men had gathered to lift the car from the track, and the injured woman was dragged out insensible. It is a wonder that she was not killed. No one in the vicinity expected that she was alive.

Mrs. Delancy is about 65 years of age. She was taken to her home on Washington street and Dr. Hollister was called. He found her in a serious condition, but thinks she will recover.

An Important Turn in the Whitney & Tracy Case.

Doria Tracy Offers to Settle at 90 Per Cent. and It is Accepted—Over $80,000 Involved.

Twelve of the Whitney & Tracy cases pending in common pleas court have been settled.

This state of affairs was brought about this morning.

The case of L. P. Mason against Whitney & Tracy has been on hearing in Judge Pugsley's room since Monday, and at 10 o'clock this morning the evidence was practically all in.

The pont at issue in this case was the same as in all of the others, a partner's liability. The plaintiff claimed that Doria Tracy was a general partner in the lumber business, and liable for the indebtedness growing out of that business. The defendant claimed that he was a special partner and not liable.

Before the argument was opened in the case this morning, counsel for the defense stated that Doria Tracy was willing to settle at 90 cents on the dollar. This case involves about $4,500. The eleven other cases, based on the same principle amount to over $80,000 in all.

Canton, O., March 9.—Thomas Newman, a seventeen-year-old boy, has left home, and it is feared that he has gone to Baltimore, Md., together with Professors Flynn and Kennedy, the mesmerists, who have been giving a series of exhibitions here. While they were in the city young Newman was completely under their control, and was a constant attendant at their exhibitions.

Both at Cur Home and Abroad.

Wheat Quotations for the Day—Price Current for Produce and Other Articles

London wheat market opens slightly better; corn steady. Weather milder. Liverpool wheat steady but dull; corn 1-2 pence up.

The receipts of wheat at seven principal western points to-day are 652,302 bu, compared with 363,889 bu on the same day last year.

San Francisco, March 8.—It is estimated that a larger acreage has been sown to wheat than ever before and the present outlook is for the largest crop in the history of the state. The grain crop, however, yet depends upon the rains in April and the absence of hot "northers" to insure the crop, so that it is too early to base predictions as to the probable grain yield for the year, though the present outlook for a large crop could not be more favorable.

Foreign Crop News.

Dornbusch of February 24 says: Official reports upon the condition of the Hungarian crops are to the effect that the continued changeable weather and the unprotected state of the grain fields through the absence of snow has had an unfavorable influence upon vegetation, and the sharp winds which have lately prevailed have so sorely tried them that most of the plants have lost their healthy green hue. Appearances, however, are still relatively satisfactory on the right and left of the Theiss and part of the right bank of the Danube.

Alsa says: The snow storms and frost which prevailed in England during the past week interrupted agricultural work, which already is backward. There is nothing fresh to say about the wheat except to accentuate the fact of an unusually small acreage. The young plant looks well, but for the season rather behind hand.

The exports of wheat from eastern European ports during the past week were 1,680,000 bu, of which 1,120,000 bu were to the United Kingdom and 560,000 bu to the continent.

Latest accounts from Russia describe the condition of the winter crops as good in the environing of Odessa and in the Crimea, but in Bessarabia and in the vicinity of Kiev it is feared the bulk of the cereals is lost, the vigorous weather a few weeks ago having caused irreparable damage.

Complaints of damage to the French wheat crop in the northern zone, instead of decreasing, have rather augmented, for it is estimated in several districts that from 10 to 30 per cent. of the sown fields will have to be reseeded, while some of the central and western departments have also been sorely tried.

Spanish advices of February 20 state that the growing cereal crops in many of the provinces have been materially benefited by the rain and snowfalls of the last three days.

The receipts of wheat to-day from seven western points show an increase over yesterday of 116,000 bus. Minneapolis and Duluth furnish 408,556 bus. of it, and the other five points 253,646 bus.

The export clearances yesterday at four Atlantic ports were, wheat, 299,831 bus., and flour to an aggregate of 440,753 bus., and of oats 28,538 bus. English markets as reported herein open steady for wheat and slightly better for corn.

Supply of Rye.

And now comes the Liverpool "Corn Trade News" with the statement herein, to which we call attention, that from all sources, including America, the Rye crop of 1891 was not deficient in production. This assumption is based mostly upon the receipts at the principal importing markets, but it is hardly safe to conclude from the movement in the first five month, that the crop was a full one, for the reason that the high prices prevailing based on the expectation of deficiencies, induced large sales and shipments. The last half of the year will be more likely to develope the real situation.

The stocks of wheat in private elevators at Chicago are 2,400,000 bu., and the aggregate in all elevators is 12,000,000 bu.

Prime's report of the winter wheat crop is not so very rosy as has been stated, but is hardly worth detailed copy. In Illinois, Indiana, Ohio, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa and Wisconsin, the returns as he makes them are 426 good, 299 fair, and 180 bad.

At Chicago, yesterday, about 200,000 bu. corn were chartered to load at 3 1-2c freight to Buffalo.

The Markets To-day.

Because of one firm closing at a slight advance yesterday English markets open steadier, but without much change in price. It is worth remembering, that as American markets go this year, so goes the world. We have made no advance that has not been reflected abroad, therefore the plungers for a decline needlessly reduce values. We can export as much at $1 10 at the seaboard as at $1 00.

Corn continues to steady in price with only moderate movement for this season.

Foreign markets close without change worth noting.

In Liverpool March wheat closes 1c higher, while May was 3-4c up. March corn steady and May 1-4c higher.

In Chicago May wheat closed 5-8c higher, May corn 1-8c higher and May oats 1-8c up.

In Toledo cash wheat sales were at 95 1-4c for Lake Shore and 95c regular, closing 95c bid. May opened on call at 95 3-8c. After call sales started at 95 1-8, selling up to 95 3-8c, then down to 95c, and back to 95 3-8c. Sales and sellers at close. July opened at 90 7-8c on call. Afterwards sales at 90 1-2c to 90 3-8c to 90 1-2c, closing at 90 1-2c bid. No. 3 soft sales at 93 1-2c@93 3-4c.

Corn quiet, with about steady market. Sales include No. 2 at 41 3-4c, No. 3 yellow at 41 1-2c, No. 3 at 41c, and No. 4 at 39 1-2c.

Oats—No. 2 white at 33c, No. 2 about 31 3-4c.

Rye—Sales at 87 1-2c for No. 2.

Clover seed again closes higher, with demand not supplied and shorts anxious. Cash and March at one time were 55c higher than yesterday's close. Closes today at $7.85 bid for cash and March.

A GERMAN GIRL'S LIFE.

Self-Effacement Is the Principle That Governs It—No Woman's Rights for Her.

The German Girl and German woman are as far removed from the American in either stage of development as the equator from the pole. As a girl she learns to be lowly in mind and humble in spirit, and even when she has acquired the dignity of wife and mother she fails to become either self-reliant or self-assertive.

The German girl is docile. She is taught to cook, to darn, to stitch, to mend, in fact, to do everything and anything that pertains to domestic life, but she grows up in ignorance of healthful out-door sports. She has no country life, no outlet for youth and spirits, such as a canter on a favorite horse can give, and knows nothing of the exhilaration that comes of driving herself and her friends. In fact, the German ladies are so shocked and outraged at our own and English customs that the chance remark of an innocent girl that she would shortly enjoy a ride called down the censure of all who heard.

Heine tells us that "German marriage is no true marriage. The husband has no wife, but a serving maid, and he still goes on living his intellectually isolated life even in the midst of his family.' And when we think of all that a German woman is expected to do and to be we are forced to think him right. The man is king, and round him revolves the family life. The wife is cook, chambermaid and housewife all in one, and fries, boils and stews for the delectation of her lord.

In her girlhood she is taught that "to be womanly she must be helpless, to be feminine she must be feeble, to endear herself she must be dependent and to charm she must cling," and by the time she becomes wife her very virtues have turned to faults. Patience degenerates into helplessness and submission into indecision, till the wife becomes to her husband, not a companion, but a creature to obey his will. He is a monarch, indeed, and for him and his comfort she works with unceasing zeal. To be a competent "hausfrau" is the aim and end of all, and the German woman of even medium rank is wholly ignorant of what a genuine marriage should be.

The German girl is sent to school and learns what the books can teach, but of that education which means development of self she has not the least idea. She learns to stitch in the most perfect way, and while a slip of a girl can make her brother's shirts and her own entire outfit; but of self-dependence she never learns.

At the proper time the Bishop comes and the rite of confirmation is performed. Then the girl obtains a gown of silk, the right to a visiting card and the dignity of sie in the place of the familiar du of childhood. Confirmed, her social life begins, and the German girl becomes ere long the German woman. As girl she learns to serve her father and her brothers and as wife she serves her chosen mate, but serve she does through her entire life.

She is patient and meek, this German cousin of ours, and she has nothing to do with woman's rights or the higher development of womankind. Her duty is to the lords of this world, and she does it with all her soul. Should the partner of her life see fit to demand so much she would iron his shirts and even wash in his behalf. Indeed, so sure is the German wife that her service is her lord's that she has been known to rejoice that her husband's linen could only meet his demands when loundered by her own hands!

But, dependent as is the German girl and ever willing to serve as is the German wife, the German mother is the glory of her sex. As mother all her virtues shine, and she becomes a being worthy homage and respect. She is devoted, unselfish and wholly given to her children's good. For their sakes she patiently bears the burden of her life, and, if need be, saves and scrimps that they may have the more. Strict guardian as the husband is of every penny that is spent, the mother has often need to go without herself that her daughters may dress as she would have them do. They are to be seen, these German mothers, in ill made gowns and bonnets out of style, but their girls are dressed as girls should be, and their mothers' hearts rejoice.

CATCHING CROWS.

How the Wary Birds Are Trapped in New Jersey.

While the crow is regarded by most people as a black-coated thief, a scavenger, an enemy to the farmer and worthless bird generally, there are a number of people of New Jersey about Atlantic City to whom he is a source of profit. They are the men who make a business of trapping the birds for shooting matches. The crow is very wary and the traps used in his capture must be of the most simple construction and nicely hidden or he will never come near, no matter how tempting the bait may be. When the snow covers the ground and everything is frozen up he sometimes becomes bold because of hunger, and at these times he is easily taken in great numbers.

The home of the crows is generally in the most inaccessible pine forests of New Jersey, and at night they congregate there in great numbers, to arise at dawn and wing their way in search of food. They always fly across at about the same place, and the trappers place their bait in the line of their flight, sometimes feeding them for several days before a pull is made.

The crows become accustomed to the place, and each day swarm on the bait and devour it. The trap or net is then put in position in the evening, and everything made ready for a pull early in the morning. It consists usually of a net made of light but strong twine, and quite small meshed. Two hickory saplings are cut, and the large ends made fast in the ground in such a position that the small ends are only a few inches above the level.

Strong lines are placed on the small ends, and the saplings are pulled back until they bend almost double. They are then hooked on small cleats. These form the spring. The net is made fast to the ground in the rear of the sapling butts, and the other corners are placed on the small ends of the saplings. The net is carefully placed in a small roll and lightly covered with snow or litter. The bait is placed directly in the sweep of the net.

When the crows come to eat, a line that is fastened to the cleat holding the springs leads some distance away ond into the hands of the trapper, who is generally concealed in a small thatched shanty. When the bait is covered he pulls the cord, and the saplings released throw the net over the crows. Lines that are on the ends are then quickly pulled tight, and the crows are captured.

A heavy pair of leather gloves is necessary to take the birds from beneath the net, as with their strong beaks and claws they fight to tne bitter end. They are placed in large boxes, and are usually sold to shooters at 25 cents a pair.

CONSTELLATION'S LAST CRUISE.

The Days of the Fine Old Frigate Nearly Numbered.

The old wooden sailing frigate Constellation, which Secretary Tracy has offered the Minnesota millers for the transportation of breadstuffs to Russia in aid of the starving peasantry, has an interesting history. To sail on a mission of humanity is no new experience for her. When great quantities of provisions were sent from New York to Ireland during the famine of 1854 is was the white-winged Constellation that bore them over the sea.

The good old ship may never sail another voyage after her return from Russia. She was built in 1800, before the age of steam, and was among the first of that group of fine war ships which American shipyards turned out early in the century. The Constellation's first service was in the West Indies under the command of Capt. Truxton in Commodore Stephen Decatur's squadron. There was trouble Iwth France about that time, and on her first cruise the Constellation, then a 36-gun ship, whipped, unaided, the French frigates L'Insurgente and La Vengeance. While in the Mediterranean on her second cruise the Constellation, under command of Capt. H. Campbell, joined the American squadron off Tripoli. The frigate Constitution with Commodores Decatur and Preble and Midshipman McDonough, figured in the attack which followed the Constellation's arrival. After the victory the frigate proceeded to Syracuse and saw no more active duty of a warlike sort until June, 1813, when she was blockaded by a large English force. Several attempts were made to destroy or capture her by boats
